User Login Script

This is my userlogin.php.

When the user clicks on my List link in the navigation (this links to mailing_list.php) and the session AdminID does not exist or is not set users are redirected to userlogin.php – the page below.

Mailing List Script

After the user has successfully logged in with the correct credincials admin/passme they are redirected to mailing_list.php, which looks like the scree shot below.

NOTICE the Session AdminID value and the last login date is presented above the data table. Here's a clue, I set the last login date to a session variable.

Also notice that the email address displayed on the screen is now encrypted.
